Editor's Table: The Mercury yesterday drained the Standard office of every paper published since the 1st of January.

The Buislay family seem to have outdone the opera. This speaks badly for the public tastes.

The complaint now before us is an unhappy proof that our port officials seek to gain themselves the reputation of a public nuisance.

It seems there is a regulation at the Capitania that no boat shall anchor within a certain distance of any 'falua'.

We understand that Don Angelo is a countryman of Columbus who formerly retailed fruit on the Mole.

On the whole, the occurrence is anything but creditable, although nominally in fulfilment of a standing order.

We have the great pleasure to advise our readers that the National Government has taken a step in the right direction.

General Ferré has been commissioned to go to the Chaco with the object of treating with the Indians in a similar manner to that employed by the United States Government with its frontier tribes.

The personal influence and local information of General Ferré are sufficiently extensive to warrant the belief that he will be successful in his endeavours.

General Ferré left a fortnight ago, per Favon, and we suppose is, at this time, actively engaged in the scene of his labours.

Cotton-fields of Paraguarí and Yaguaron: Having rested nearly four hours at Pirayu, I obtained fresh horses and left my compliments for the Gefé of the district.

The morning was fresh and cloudy but Dr. Fox would not suffer me to leave without breakfast, and the young ladies next door had sent me a kind of sponge-cake as a souvenir.

Passing a number of cotton plantations in excellent condition, we soon entered a thick forest, through which we be constructed that if necessary a locomotive can be used upon it.

Contracts for these undertakings will be received by the Government until two o'clock of the 15th February next.

The captain of the British ship Granada arrived at Valparaiso last month from the Falkland Islands.

It is not long since we recorded a barbarous outrage, committed by one of the myrmidons of that mediæval institution, ruled over by the Captain of the Port.

travelled for an hour, meeting nothing but a wayide cross, a solitary woodman, and two women on foot.

The first post-house was a wretched 'ranchito' where two men and three women were sleeping.

We changed horses midway, and I got a glass of beer and water, although it is bad to drink under such circumstances.

At noon we sighted the peak of Yaguaron, towering above all around, and after some minutes the village appeared on the far side of a lagoon.

The interior is highly ornamental, having pillars of carved wood, an antique pulpit, fancy roof, and fine altars.

We reached the second post at 5 p.m. the occupants were two old men and a boy.

The road passed over some marshy ground till we came to a rivulet, where some boys were bathing.

At full speed we entered the plaza, and drew up before the Gefé's door.

I, Maurice Connell, neighbour of Villa Mercedes, aged 25 years and upwards, declare that a horrible crime and outrage has been committed by the authorities on the person of my son.

On Sunday, 14th inst., my son Charles Connell was sitting in company with several friends and relatives, in the house of business belonging to Mr. Frederick Swengel.

topped to see his uncle and brother-in-law who were inside.

Scarcely had my son turned around when Diaz with a curse struck him a terrible blow, and threw him into the street under the horse's feet.

to your ignorance of the individual whom you therein libel, or to a violent party spirit ever prone to insult, or in fine to make vain show of severity of principles, that you accuse J. Moreno, Rosas' Chief of Police, of having permitted outrages on the part of his subalterns.

I defy you, sir, to cite a single case in support of your assertion.

My son appeared dead and was picked up in that state.

The Justice of Peace was then informed, but he has shown himself an accomplice in the crime, for, although requested, by divers persons, six times, to institute a process, he refused to do anything, stating that "probably the English themselves, were to blame."

The witnesses who can vouch for the truth of this my declaration are: Francis Mc Kernan, Michael Mc Dermott, John Carmely, James Carmely, Thomas Kernan, Frederic Swengel, Francis Cleary, Michael Kelly, John Kelly, Paul O'Regan, Martin Sinnott, John Campan, Pedro Cardoso, John Cotter, Pierre Ferrand, Juan Casanora, and other neighbors of this town, all eye-witnesses.

These facts being established, it will appear that the crime was committed by Diaz, with the direct complicity of Ezequiel Quiroga and the indirect criminality of the Justice of Peace.

We understand that the unhappy victim of barbarous police officials died in great suffering, and the afflicted family has resorted to the British Minister for relief.

The 'vomit negro' had broken out in Vera Cruz and Tampico, and was decimating the French.

An agreement for a contract for five years, for a monthly line of mail steamers between Panama and New Zealand has just been completed.

A tramway to Carupa would bring into the Northern line almost the whole of the passenger traffic from the Northern districts.

SAVINGS BANK. BANK MAU& CO.

No. 103 calle de Cangallo. The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the Rio Plata - Montevideo & Buenos Ayres - that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mau & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depository for their savings. The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount. These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities. The Bank of Mau & Co. of this city following the example of their Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.
