No falsis modum... SATURDAY, MARCH 5, 1864.

THE APPLE OF DISCORD.

Fight the devil for temptation... We need scarcely ask pardon for the above couplet, seeing that since our absent friend's return from Paris it is fashionable to decorate 'original' articles with very common-place quotations.

If we could credit Sor. Varela's assertions, he is one of the most amiable men living, and animated with a Christian spirit of fraternity and love. No doubt, in private circles this is the case, and we have heard of several acts of kindness performed by him.

So long as the 'Standard' stood alone in deprecating the insincerity and bad faith of that paper, Argentines might think we were moved by jealousy, or confound our attacks on a journal with insults on the country at large.

The French organ had not enjoyed many days' existence before it had equal reason to complain of the insolent and overbearing treatment it received from the same quarter.

My efforts, and those of my Ministers, shall be directed to extirpate rebellion, and restore our former peace and prosperity; that the country may soon again enter on the path of moral and material prosperity.

Thus the banners of the three most civilized, powerful, and time-honored nations in Christendom are made the sport of a flippant and self-conceited writer.

If the 'Tribuna' will but imitate the noble example of the 'Nacion Argentina,' whose columns have never contained a line or syllable offensive to foreigners, the editor of the former paper will improve his own reputation and serve the general advancement of the Republic.

IMPORTANT FROM BERRO VIDEO.

The New President Installed.

Manifesto of Berro and Aguirre.

British Navy Theatrics.

On Sunday, 28th ult., President Berro took his farewell of the garrison, passing it in review in Calle Julio.

The troops numbered 2,000 men, comprising 4 battalions National Guards, 2 do. police; 2 detachments of cavalry, and 2 pieces of artillery.

National Guards.—For the last time I address you as Chief Magistrate of the Republic, and salute you as brave defenders of the Law.

Defenders of the Law. In obedience to the Constitution I am about to descend from the post to which my countrymen raised me, and in pledge of my remembrance I pray you to lend your loyal aid to the new Magistrate.

Your old Companion & Friend.

On the 1st inst. President Berro delivered up the supreme command to D. Atanasio Aguirre, in the Government House. The members of the Cabinet, Chamber of Justice, Medical Board, Military Staff, the Vicar-apostolic and clerical body, with a host of officials and citizens, were present.

Foreign Affairs.—Dr. Juan José de Herrera.

Home (Gobierno).—Dr. Octavio Lapido.

War and Marine.—General Diego Lamas.

Dr. Lapido is at present Chargé d'Affaires in Paraguay, and General Lamas being also absent, his post is temporarily held by Colonel Pantalon Perce.

Follow-citizens.—The rebellion, which still disturbs public order and stains our country with blood, prevents the election of a chief magistrate to-day.

Foreign Residents.—Your interests are identified with ours. You want peace, order, and security, the guarantees of civilisation, to enable you to labour and prosper in our country.

The Senators Ambrosio Velasco and Pedro Diaz have been released from captivity. Sor. Berro has retired into private life; and it is thought the exiles will be permitted to return, and things pursue the same course as before the late coup d'état.

The British war-steamers Forte, gave dramatic entertainments on the 1st. Signor Barbolani, Italian Charge d'Affaires, has received the diploma of Resident Minister at Montevideo.

Osamp's estancia. He is concentrating his forces, for straggling bodies of 100 to 200 are no longer seen, as formerly. The Government army passed S. Lucia-chico, and arrived (1st inst.) at Paso Paraguayo, where they halted for fresh horses.

There is no news of importance from the interior. At Gualaguaychu a band of 30 foreigners enlisted at B. Ayres was preparing to join the rebels.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Southern Railway Inauguration is the talk of town. Ministers, brokers, merchants, editors, tailors, and even ladies, think of nothing else.

Congress this year will be rather dull without (Sor. Marmol's) entertaining anecdotes and witty illustrations. The distinguished poet leaves, next week, for Rio Janeiro as Argentine Envoy Extraordinary, taking for Secretary D. Alejandro Paz, and attached D. Ignacio Garmendia.

Pocket-picking was formerly unknown in Buenos Ayres, but the inroads of civilisation are daily more visible, and we must guard against the depredations of an incipient well-mob.

Thursday was an excessively hot day and even at ten p.m. the thermometer stood at 82, whereas the average heat at Rio Janeiro during mid-day, this summer, has not passed 80.

On to-morrow evening Mme. Briol will give Norma at the Colon Theatre. Mme. Mollo plays Adalgisa with consummate taste, and, as we have before said, this is the best performance put on our boards for many years.

The Nacional complains, in language bordering on sedition, that Major Basso has been placed under arrest. It will be remembered the gallant gentleman resented the trip given him by the War office from Fandil to town.

Nothing can afford us greater pleasure than to find a correspondent, in another column, insist on having a St. Patrick's dinner this year.

Resignations and dismissals are now the order of the day, and if all the public officers so removed were placed in a row, we should be alarmed at the loss of so many experienced servants.

As to the proposed Tabla de Cambios, it is indispensable that the merchant should offer a bonus, as the sale would hardly pay printing expenses, and the compiler should work for nothing.

SUSPECTED CONSPIRACY.

In the 'Nacional' of Thursday it is stated that the Chief of Police has fancied that he has found that rarity, a mare's nest, and has called upon the proprietor of the Teatro Argentino, where the Club Libertad used to meet, to give some proper explanation of his having permitted his building to be used as a deposit of arms.

recognises the claims of the descendant of that illustrious foreigner; and, what is worse still, after it has recognised the debt it will not pay it.

It is well known that in British India, where few prisoners are taken, owing to the laziness of the authorities, magistrates are praised for keeping their districts in such quietness; but when a 'griffin' goes out, he is so charmed with his new power that he is never weary of hunting up criminals.

It appears that M. Bravay went to Egypt and got employment in a shoe-maker's house in Cairo. One day, some person who was not known, entered the shop to have a slipper mended.

The slipper was very elegant, and ornamented with silver work and gold embroidery, very small and delicate. The unknown said he was taking a walk through the street when the accident to his slipper happened, and that he could not continue his stroll.

THE WHITE CLAIM.

It is now some five or six months since the heirs of the late G. P. White, creditor of the State since 1811, through the intervention of the American Minister, had the claim of their relative recognised by the Argentine Government.

It would be too long a story to relate the origin of this debt against the Nation, but suffice it to say that the late Mr. White, at the most critical time of the existence of this country, when it was in momentary danger of seeing the patriotic revolution fail.

After a lapse of fifty years, the Government, forgetful of the great sacrifices made by White, almost unwillingly recognises the claims of the descendant of that illustrious foreigner; and, what is worse still, after it has recognised the debt it will not pay it. What ingratitude! What an engaging example this is to present to the foreigner who has been attracted to these shores by the pretended hospitality of this generous nation—to see the conduct, hear the sentiments, and take note of the weakness of the Government.

On account of the nature of the debt, and in compliance with the promise so frequently made, if not as an act of unmerited justice, we hope that the minister will do all in his power to have the claims of the heirs of White settled.

AMERICUS.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Gentlemen, Since the appearance of your paper this morning, which as you know is now read at every breakfast-table, I have been assailed from all sides by exclamations of "What! no St. Patrick's day dinner this year?"

You hint at the secus as being an impediment, but is it not enough to suffer its effects "all the year round," not to allow its parching influence to deter us from moistening the shamble on that day devoted to general social humidity?

The fact is my wife too is anxious to see my name in print in connection with some highly charged patriotic sentiments, and doubtless many other incipient orators are similarly situated.

Do not therefore be frightened at the noise ourselves did "make" last year, and do not listen to the croaking of those who are eternally casting a wet blanket upon every movement tending to keep alive the flame of patriotism.

You know that, as a rule, Irishmen will dine on Patrick's day, and that they are also inclined to be more than usually gregarious on that day, all the world over.

Order the dinner therefore, if you value your reputation amongst your countrymen, and you may rely upon a satisfactory attendance and amongst them.

A THIRSTY SOUL.

3rd March, 1864.

READY-RECKONER.

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

I have only just recovered sufficiently to enjoy the matutinal 'Standard,' in which I notice a billious reply of some 'ill-used-up Clerk' to my suggestion.

I gather from it that he (and somebody else unknown to fame) suffered three calendar months' imprisonment in the incubation of a 'Tabla de Cambios,' which the public would not buy (and somehow the public is almost always right), and that the said public being still indebted to the man of figures, he declines to devote his scientific mind to any similar compilation.

I would suggest the appurtenance of L.S.D. as suitable initials. I beg, through you, to make another suggestion, viz., that he formalize his claim and have it properly attested, with a view to its being presented at the approaching meeting of the 'British Clerks' Provident Association,' where a grant will, no doubt, be at once made of their half-yearly profits, and so avoid sending round the hat to the British merchants oftener than is also lately necessary.

Now, for the new table (by the way, I suppose the unknown assistant resigns his claim, fearing the statute of limitations), I will venture to say that many of my brother clerks could produce the requisite article in one week, and that you, Mr. Editor, printer and publisher, would gladly produce it in your best type, for a share of the copyright.

Without more energy left, I continue to be a USED-UP CLERK. 12 o'Clock, Wednesday.

THE LANCASTHIRE DISTRESS.

The records for the year 1863 of the distress in the cotton districts of Lancashire and York-hire are completed by the report read on Monday to the Executive Committee of the Central Relief Fund at Manchester.

The retrospect of the year does not diminish our ground for congratulation, while it gives us good hope for the year which has begun. In the last week of January, 1863, the enormous number of 455,785 persons were wholly dependent on relief; and even this was below the number so dependent in the previous month.

The Public Works Act is coming into operation slowly, but certainly; and under loans already advanced there is room for the employment of about 10,000 men, besides those already at work—a figure representing a deduction of about 30,000 from the relief lists.

There is, besides, the likelihood that the general trade of the country, which during last year has been on the whole singularly free from any unhealthy inflation, will continue to improve during the present year.

The fact is my wife too is anxious to see my name in print in connection with some highly charged patriotic sentiments, and doubtless many other incipient orators are similarly situated.

GOSPEL ABOUT THACKERAY.

The late Mr. Thackeray was an accomplished penman, and used to pride himself on the neatness and dexterity with which he could crum the greatest possible number of words into the smallest possible space.

word "which," spelling it "wh." Singular to relate, too, the pen used was an ordinary goose quill which happened to be in the room.

DEATH OF DR. DEMPSTER

Our American readers will regret to learn the demise of the above reverend gentleman, who was the founder of their church in this city.

As we go to press, we learn of the death of the Rev. John Dempster, D.D., which occurred suddenly at Chicago, on Saturday, the 28th of November.

He was born in Florida, Montgomery county (since divided,) New York, January 2, 1794. He was converted to God, September, 1812, when eighteen years of age.

In three months he was preaching the Gospel with great fervor, and even at that early period of his history gave promise of great usefulness.

While in England there was a long time of weary suspense, during which his family received no tidings of him, his letters having been storm-bound, and reaching his home after his arrival.

Mazzini Plot.—The designs of this Italian patriot have been discovered: private assassination, as usual, is the means chosen by the friends of liberty.

But his eye was westward. In God's providence an elect lady bequeathed her means for founding in the vicinity of this eye of the Northwest another school for ministerial training.

too vividly before us to permit further writing. On the 10th of July, 1824, he was married to Miss Lydia Clancy, who mourns his loss with profound grief, albeit cheered by a good hope of meeting him.

The fund which is in progress to relieve Lieutenant Colonel Crawley of the expenses incurred by the recent court-martial at Aldershot now amounts to upwards of 1,200 £. The expenses are said to amount to between 3,000 £ and 4,000 £.

Madame Schnell, a fortune teller of Louisville, and her two children, were lost on the steamer Sunny Side. She had accumulated 70,000 dollars by the practice of her art, but failed to read her own fate.—Freeman's Journal.

LOCAL EVENTS.

Half-mast.—On Thursday last the French vessels at present in harbour hoisted their colours half-mast as a mark of respect for the late Mr. Alfredo Quesnel, one of the partners of the house of Quesnel, Frères, and Co., of Havre.

Maritime News.—On the 25th ult. the pilot boat Cataline entered Montevideo from Punta del Indio with some damaged goods taken from a vessel wrecked at that place (T.M.). It is very strange that the name of the wrecked vessel is not known.

Sale of a Vessel.—Yesterday, at 2 p.m., was sold, by public auction, in the stores of the Comisario de Guerra, the Sloop San Juan Bautista, which is at present lying at Barracas. For all the use that the Argentine navy is, and considering its expenses, it would be a good plan for Government to contract for the defence of the nation. It would save trouble, and besides not having a lot of rotten vessels to support, the work would be better done. We have not heard the price realised.

Geographical Editors.—It is not long since one of our colleagues favoured us with the amusing statement, 'that the King of Prussia feared a rebellion in Siberia, and sent troops into that duchy.' Of course, he meant Silesia.

Irish Immigrants.—On Thursday evening the barque Leonora arrived from Liverpool with 12 passengers, natives of the county Westmeath. On yesterday the Uruguay brought 41 other Irishmen. We give them a cordial welcome.

Erratum.—In yesterday's 'Tribuna' second page, column 3, line 50, for 'assentes read asentes.' The error is not typographical but grammatical, as the license of editors which permits them to use the plural personal pronoun, does not sanction a plural adjective.

Benefit Night.—Grand Sparring Exhibition between Johnny M'Kay and William Valley, and also four more of the most scientific boxers in Buenos Ayres:—Bristol Hero, Billy Reid, Thomas Farrell, Jimmy Sullivan.

Indians.—The 'Tribuna' says that it has, from good authority, learned that on the 24th ult. a clash was sent from this to the frontiers, advising the authorities there of the intended 'madon' on the part of the Indians.

Mad Weather.—There is every sign of an immediate break in the weather, but it is likely Monday will be a fine day, to permit the inauguration.

ENGLISH DRAPERY ESTABLISHMENT, ALEX. FULTON & CO,

25 AND 27 DEFENSA 25 AND 27 SAVINGS BANK BANK MAU & CO

No. 103 calle de Cangallo. — BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mau & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mau & Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mau & Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mau & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

No more Scab in Sheep. Patented by Government. General Store in Buenos Ayres at 365 CALLE BUEN ORDEN.

The shearing time being now over the inventor of the Anti-Scab Specific for curing Cutaneous Diseases in Sheep, an all domestic Animal, begs to inform the Estancieros that it can never be applied to such effect as after shearing, when it not only cures the worst cases, but acts as a preservative against the disease.

The simplest method is bathing the animal, whether sound or affected, in the manner prescribed by the instructions.

The specific has been already found an effectual remedy for Insects (Garrapatas). Numerous certificates may be seen, showing the high reputation of the Specific throughout S. America.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL, CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronized by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English School, where a sound commercial education combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as all first class European institutions of the kind.

An ever-watchful and constant supervision, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee that the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing, are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful quarters of the city, is one of the most beautiful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.

For particulars apply for prospectuses at the Standard Office, Calle Bolgrano 74. De P. PONGERARD.
