THE PARTIDOS OF MORON AND ARRECIFES.

In 1863 the lands and properties of Moron were assessed by Government valuation under $100,000 being (in round numbers) the same as the previous year. Last year they appear as 112, or one-tenth the total value of the campagna.

The heat seems on the increase, being at present much more intense than it has been at Rio Janeiro in the middle of the past Summer. Last year we lighted parlor fires by this time of the season. Yesterday, one could hardly breathe, the atmosphere was so sultry, and there were signs of a heavy rain-storm.

The late showers have done a slight service in some parts of the camp, but we hear from the Capilla-Señor that the land is as bare as our streets. The cattle in many places are dying from eating thistles.

An English gentleman just arrived from Pilar informs us that the Tribuna report about a Maz-horcada and great Orudo victory is false. The utmost order prevailed and the Crudos admit their majority was but one, 138 to 137.

There was great confusion on the Mole yesterday, the passengers for Paraguay and Uruguay being taken off in haste. The Paxon discharged her passengers in like manner. One boat having got around was taken in tow by a horse-cart.

longans of camp. The return is dated June 1st 1863, and since then several foreigners have purchased and settled on lands in this district.

We will review seriatim the several partidos, and although on minute examination the gigantic augmentation of Moron and Arrecifes have fallen to 180 and 375 p. respectively, we regard such increase as perfectly monstrous, and will show that an excessive taxation is being silently levied on the rural interests, for which no protection to life or property is given in return.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Monday will be a strict holiday, as the feast of Lady-day (25th ult.) has been transferred to that date, from the coincidence of Good Friday having fallen on the former day.

The heat seems on the increase, being at present much more intense than it has been at Rio Janeiro in the middle of the past Summer. Last year we lighted parlor fires by this time of the season.

There was great confusion on the Mole yesterday, the passengers for Paraguay and Uruguay being taken off in haste. The Paxon discharged her passengers in like manner.

One of our subscribers has requested a list of all the Irish or English murdered in the province of Buenos Ayres since the fall of Rosas. We believe they exceed 200, and in no single case has the assassin been executed.

Following the Justice's report as more accurate, and supposing the other to have been made by a drunken, love-sick, or lunatic clerk, we find that one-tenth of the property in Moron is held by Englishmen: Messrs. Smith, 1081; Dillon, (Gerald) Larroche, Cornell, Coffin, Brack, Small, Tiggat, Tinsin, Kiernan, Langden, and Gowland, who pay an aggregate of $7,185 property tax.

The partido of Arrecifes appears in page 4, as having paid in 1861, 11,480 dols, which rose in 1862 to 20,833 dols, and is returned for 1863 at 165,000 dols. Here again we are all astray, for in page 4 we read, extent 120 sq. leagues, but the commission says "a slight error has crept in, the district having only 81 leagues."

ho murders and robberies now so frequent in the suburbs should make our readers doubly careful, and instead of relying on the humbug called police, they must never be without a good Colt or Deane and Adams revolver.

We are glad to learn that private advices from San Juan are very satisfactory, and Major Richard has discovered some new and valuable mines. It is likely the late difficulties have been arranged.

The Governor of Cordoba is said to work against the National Government; this is dangerous, and hence we always advised the propriety of abolishing these petty rulers, who only tend to diminish the respect for the head of the Republic.

Among new publications we hear of a Medical Review to be edited by Dr. Angel Gallardo, and a midwifery student named Pedro Mallo.

The Corrientes s.s. formerly plying to Bahia Blanca is now on the M. video route; she left last night.

The sickness in the city continues unabated, and a medical friend assures us that the meat in the market is poison.

H. B. M. gunboat "Dotorrell" is under repairs at the Tigre; we understand the officers and crew suffer terribly from mosquitoes.

We regret being obliged to take farewell of our readers until Wednesday morning, but if the Liverpool steamer Luna comes in meantime with later dates we will publish a supplement.

THE ROSARIO MAILS.

The 'Ferro Carril,' 1st inst., brings no news of the provinces. Don Marcelino Freyre has been named Chief of Police of Rosario, in room of Sr. Alvarado, resigned. The former was installed on the 29th ult., and is spoken of as a model of every civic virtue.

The elections for Deputies to Congress are to take place on the 1st of May. Sr. Calzadilla is treating with Government for a gas concession in favour of a London Company.

The mutiny of Melincub is thus described by a correspondent:— At 2 o'clock in the morning of the 23rd of March, we were returning towards the fort, having given up all chase of the Indians; the regiment was in regular marching order, and we pushed on at a smart gallop, when I heard some shots fired at the head of the column, where Colonel Prado was riding, about 10 yards ahead of me.

Our safety lay in our firmness, for if we had fled at the first alarm, they would have pursued and butchered us singly. Those who wavered were over-awed by the bold stand of the Colonel, who, as he was mounted on a fine horse, might have hoped to out-distance the mutineers, but rather held his ground in the midst of the infernal scene.

At 3 a.m., when 23 mutineers had fled to the desert, we again formed into line, and shouting, 'Viva el Gobierno!' marched up to the fort where the rest of our force was in garrison, and in a terrible state of alarm, having been told that Prado and I were assassinated.

General Gelly writes to Governor Orsini, approving of his measures to resist an attack of Indians: 125 National Guards are quartered at the estancia Palacios. The Indians del Sauce were expected to make a descent, and General Gelly has sent 12 rifled carbines to the authorities of Santa Fe.

A subscription, amounting to $1000 has been got up by Don Tomas Penaloza, to form a colony at Guardia Equiana.

STAND AND DELIVER!

This city is at present a defenceless prey to one or more gangs of daring highwaymen, who have committed some 20 murders or robberies within the last ten days. The plague rages, like yellow fever, every day adding fresh victims.

The only method of stopping the evil is to erect five gibbets on the following roads: Palermo, Cinco Esquinas, Flores, Calle Arenas, and Lomas de Zamorra. By hanging two malefactors weekly either from the Carcel or Policia, we may strike terror into the murderous foot-pads.

A poor foreigner who was in the habit of trafficking in fowl and eggs, among the quintas beyond Huaco de los Sauces, was missed last week, and at length his corpse turned up near the roadside exhibiting terrible wounds; his pockets had been rifled of the few dollars he possessed.

The N. Argentino mentions an estancia being assassinated at Calallito, and states that the Southern outlets are unsafe in broad daylight. Also that an Englishman was robbed of everything and left naked, on the night of the 30th ult.

This gives a total of 35 murders and robberies last month, and if we are not fast driving to a Californian state of affairs, it is not the fault of the authorities. These infernal elections so occupy the Chief of Police and other authorities that 'Stand and Deliver' is now as common a salutation as 'lend me your cigar-light.'

RIVER PLATE MAGAZINE.

This month's number has fairly surpassed our most sanguine expectations, and in excellence of writing, diversity of subject, and general get up would be no disgrace to similar undertakings in the old world.

The first article, 'Inauguration of the Great Southern Railway' is a succinct but eloquent introduction to the reproduction of the 'Song of Steam.' The song is wondrous pleasing, and in its measure there is a kind of gentle breathing, as though a giant, whom to rule was dangerous, had just finished a hearty meal off some small tender children, and was at peace with all the world.

My first Ball in Cordoba—"On with the dance, let joy be unconfin'd." Such is the paraphrased heading of this paper. It is an interesting article on one of the semi-barbarous customs of South America. It would be an interesting study for philosophers to trace how one particular custom is scattered far and wide over the globe, and how it is to be found amongst nations who have had no intercourse with one another, as far back as the memo'y of man goes—and such research would show that no religion in particular is the foundation of the custom.

'How I went treasure-decking,' is a short account of how a vagabond and Ishmaelite got drenched by spirits and water, and to those who are tinged with spiritualism, and lovers of the marvels, we recommend the article. From the 'vagabond's' choosing a city mentioned by the Great Wizard as possessing gates of silver, we presume the event to have taken place in Lima, for the only time Sir Walter mentions Peru is in Rokoby.

Life in the River Plate is a series of remarks on the brighter side of life in the Uruguay Republic, extracted from a most exaggerated pamphlet distributed in England by the Montevidean Government.

The Blackman, is a continuation of an article which appeared last month from the pen of Professor Burmeister. To the friends of our black brethren, it must be very gratifying to read this article; but the learned Professor unwittingly strengthens the argument of his opponents.

Several new facts will be elucidated from this article; amongst others, that the word 'mulatto' is derived from the word 'mula.' Till now, we candidly confess that we were labouring under the delusion that it was derived from the coptic word 'molu' (bastard); but let the etymology of the word be what it may, the mulatta seems to make a most agreeable companion and help-mate.

The 'Taravi of the martyr-poet' is a short, apt, and pleasing description of the Peruvian 'coronach,' or lament, by one of Peru's brightest luminaries, Melgar. This is an article, particularly suited to the softer sex, and shows no small amount of acquaintance with the 'poets of the passion.'

How to encourage Emigration! The author, after praising the laudable efforts of the present Government, to advance the country by railways and other arts of peace, proposes, as a mode of encouraging emigration, that the consular agents abroad be empowered to give all publicity to the advantages offered to emigrants, &c.

It is a decided improvement having the 'index of contents' printed outside of the cover of the magazine, and we can safely predict, that if the magazine goes on as it does this month it will be a boon to the Anglo-Porto society. The editors should guard against the danger of prosing on heavy subjects, and give as many light articles on different subjects as he can.

Many here are unable to get the original of these two articles, and it is only by means of a local publication that the rising Anglo-Porto generation will see what a loss the guild of literature has sustained.

MONTVIDEAN BEEF.

It is generally allowed that my countrymen are possessed of ostrich like digestions—vide Private Dugald McInroy, 42nd Foot, who dined for a whole month off tripe, manufactured from a pair of buckskin don't-mention-them, buttons and all. But, from a paragraph in your to-day's 'editor's table,' about beef being introduced into my native city from this country, I feel sorely afraid that my countrymen will soon become every bit as dyspeptic as our Transatlantic cousins.

pay of the importers) analysed it and found—

Table with 2 columns: Item and Quantity. Aqua 92, Carbon 6, Ammonia 1, Total 99.

The odd part being some ingredient they had never met with before—perhaps some of Flores' troops.

Lately I examined a first-rate imitation of Montevidean beef, and found (excuse the untechnical terms)—

Table with 2 columns: Item and Quantity. Carbon 11, Ammonia 28, Bootsale 60, Trash poison 0, Total 100.

The only way I can account for such a large presence of aqua in the first lot is, that perhaps the boots from which it was manufactured, had been lying in the camp during a heavy rain.

Port wine, after oysters, is generally supposed to cause indigestion, but I wonder what effect this Montevidean beef will have on the internal economy of the fellow-townsmen of MOLDENHAR.

The Confederate Cruisers.

Intelligence arrived on the 14th Feb. from the Cape of Good Hope that the Confederate cruiser, Tuscaloosa, had been seized in Simon's Bay by her Majesty's ship Narcissus, under orders from the Governor, acting in accordance with instructions from the Home Government.

Since her last visit to the Cape, the Tuscaloosa had been cruising between that place and Brazil. She had spoken above a hundred vessels, only one of which, however, proved to be a Federal viz., the Living Age; but as she had an English cargo on board, she was released on a bond being given.

During her cruise, the Tuscaloosa had put into a Brazilian port for water and supplies, but was refuted both, and in consequence the crew are said to have been placed on short allowance. Lieutenant Lowe the commander had lodged a formal protest against seizure with Admiral Sir Baldwin Walker, which will of course be transmitted to London.

The United States Consul, Mr. Graham, had also advanced a claim to the vessel on behalf of her former owners, and had been informed that she would be detained until she could be handed over to them. The Cape Argus of Jan. 6 says—"The point upon which the authorities at home differ in opinion from Mr. Denysen, who was acting attorney-general, and as such, legal adviser of the Government, when the Tuscaloosa formerly visited the Cape, is as to the competency of Captain Semmes to condemn prizes without taking them to a regularly-constituted prize-court.

Such court Captain Semmes claims to constitute on board the Alabama by virtue of authority from his Government, and the question at issue is, whether that court, or pretended court, is a court whose decisions aggrieved persons are bound to submit to, and other Governments to acknowledge and accept. In our view, the very idea of a court implies that the persons whose property is to be disposed of shall have the right of being present and the power of advocating their cause. With these conditions it cannot be said that the court held by Captain Semmes on board the Alabama complies. And his court certainly is not such a court as the other Powers of the world have established. It may be said that the circumstances of the Confederate States are exceptional, and that the coast being blockaded by a superior naval power, it would be impossible for Captain Semmes to send his prizes for condemnation to a court of his own country. But that, we take it, is an accident of the unpleasant consequences of which the Confederates must submit to; and if Captain Semmes' court be not such a court as independent Powers are bound to acknowledge and respect, the condemnation was clearly illegal. Upon that point the whole case turns. If the condemnation was illegal, the conversion of the Conrad into an armed cruiser and her commission as such was equally so, and she cannot claim indemnity from seizure as a man-of-war. If, on the other hand, it be held that the condemnation was sufficient, then is the Tuscaloosa entitled to all the privileges of a ship of war, one of which is freedom from arrest."

DARING ROBBERY

MR. COFFIN'S ESTABLISHMENT PLUNDERED

On Friday night, the premises of Messrs. T. B. Coffin and Son were broken into by a gang of burglars, who succeeded in forcing open the iron safe, and taking away a large quantity of money. It is not known what goods may have been taken, as the whole place was found in great confusion, and the safe broken. Of course, the police and serenos know nothing about the matter, although it must have been done openly.

On Tuesday night, some thieves effected an entrance into Sr. Carranza's house, and carried off 20 fine fowls. Mr. Carranza says that one of his neighbours was similarly victimised last week.

For further particulars we refer our readers to the article "Stand and Deliver," in another column. Yet the "N. Argentina" says that the sleeping old individual styled Chief of Police is a model magistrate: this is because he is a tico, but we judge a man by his fulfilment of his duty, not by party color.

LOCAL EVENTS

Apology.—Dicking to our character for 'justice' in the broadest sense of the term, we humbly offer our apology to the vigilantes of this city. We have frequently said that they did nothing, and that they did well, but to day we are happy to see by the 'Pueblo' that between the 8th and 4th March last they collected in fines 4630 dolrs. Verily, what between police fines and the increased rents of land, we are getting on like a house on fire, and in the exultation of our hearts feel inclined to bellow "How we applaud swim!"

Good news for our camp subscribers.—For the benefit of our friends in the camp who may not see some of our native colleagues' papers, we beg to state—that in the month of April, current, a mail steamer from England may be expected to arrive.—That the 1st of April next year will fall upon a Friday; and lastly.—That the cruets won in San Antonio, and the condors lost in San Bora. If the foregoing be not startling news, we refer our readers to the native papers themselves, and if they find any more fresh intelligence it is more than we can, and they're welcome to keep it to themselves.

Robbers.—The 'Pueblo' states that six highwaymen have been arrested: we doubt it, but even so Mr. Cozon must seize 294 more, before life and property be secure.

Lucia de Lammermoor.—This opera will be given to night and Norma tomorrow night.

D. Nicolas Calvo.—The 'Pueblo' states this eminent writer has become one of the 'Tribuna' editors; this is false, for our bellicose friend is after all a gentleman.

SAVINGS BANK BANK MAU & CO.

No. 103 calle de Cangallo.

BUENOS-AYRES.
The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.
The Bank of Mau & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depository for their savings.
The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.
These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.
The Bank of Mau & Co. of this city following the example of their Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.
p. p. Mau & Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

- 2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p. 100] per annum which is liquidated every six months.
- 3rd. The depositor can at any time retro the whole or part of the money deposited.
- 4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.
- 5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,
CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS

Dr. Mr. Pongeraud, of the London University College.
This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronized by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English School, where a sound commercial education combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.
An ever-watchful and constant supervision, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee that the moral and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.
The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Rhetoric instruction.
Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing, are also taught by special masters.
The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful quarters of the Calle Larga de Barracas, at the very gates of the city, is one of the most beautiful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.
