ROBBERIES AND OUTRAGES.

San Francisco never was in such a state as this city is at present. There is no part of the uncivilized world where this state of things would be tolerated...

The outrage list for this week is not uninteresting to those who are distant from the scene of action...

A gang of robbers attacked the quinta of Sor. Lanuz, in Flores, but made a hasty retreat on signs of resistance by the inmates.

Whether, owing to the evil effects of republicanism, or the stupidity of our rulers, it happens that the politics of the capital cannot pursue the robbers beyond the municipal boundaries...

A Government which looks with indifference on such a state of things is a mere force. We pay a faithful and enormous taxation...

Next week we expect the list of outrages will exceed two dozen, and it behooves the public to call a meeting...

CAPILLA DEL SEÑOR AND PILAR.

Again we are on Irish ground, and as we proceed in our tour of the province each partido seems to surpass its predecessor in the number and wealth of the foreign landowners.

The district of Pilar figures, in page 4, as 28 square leagues, but only 33 are subject to contribution: this is accounted for by the great number of infinitesimal holdings...

EDITOR'S TABLET.

The 1st number of the 'Nacionalista' appeared yesterday, from this office: the editors count on a large circulation...

We are glad to learn, from several quarters, that there are no longer any serious fears of a drought during winter...

peter. The reader of Spanish South American history, must be forcibly struck with the great number of field-marshal, generals, and colonels in the Patriot Armies...

Thomas Cochran, Lord Dundonald, spoiled an otherwise readable book, by his interminable complaints to Governments...

The Shakespeare's ter-centenary celebration is likely to be a failure both in London and Buenos Ayres.

We rejoice to note signs of returning vitality among the Glee Club, as will be seen by advertisement.

The English vessel damaged in the late gale was the Kestrel of Newhaven: we understand she lost her bowsprit and some rigging.

The theatricals of H. B. M. officers of the Forte came off last night at Solis theatre, Montevideo.

The 'Nacion Argentina' complains that the N. Railway issues tokens of $1 in giving change, and calls this forging.

The Codigo papers make sport of the Z Betina for a 'lapsus penne' in stating that two young ladies who died last week had ceased to exist.

To-morrow night the Lyric Co. will give Bellini's opera of the stranger: we use so unacademical as not to know whether it is founded on Kote-bue's celebrated play...

The new editor of the Nacional signs E. E. Have Messrs. Keen and D'auico retired into that privacy so congenial to their talents?

REVISTA DE BUENOS AYRES.

The 11th number, corresponding to March, has just been distributed: 'Historia Americana; Reminiscencias.'

All accounts agree in representing the late storm as one of the most terrible which has visited our campaign for several years.

up, but happily no greater calamity has occurred than the mixture of some flocks of sheep.

A native estanciero, near Luxan, had his zinc roof carried a considerable distance from his house...

The principal part of such papers is, as we mentioned before, copies of official documents, given in extenso...

'Compañias Maritimas' is a continuation of an article which appeared in the former number.

'Fastos de la America Española' is a continuation of the Chronological Events, in connection with Spanish South America...

The 'cause celebre' is an account of a quarrel which arose here between some of the dignitaries of this city on a point of etiquette.

'El Fin de Una Historia,' is a Peruvian sensation novelette, in two chapters, and contains the usual amount of guilty love, murder, and repentance.

'Recuerdos de Egipto,' No. 3, is a series of apophthegms to the skies, the temperature, and the moon...

GREAT STORM IN THE CAMP.

All accounts agree in representing the late storm as one of the most terrible which has visited our campaign for several years.

The 'cause celebre' is an account of a quarrel which arose here between some of the dignitaries of this city on a point of etiquette.

The expediture consists of the following items:—Interest and management of the permanent debt, terminable annuities, interest of exchange bills...

can be pursued but appealing to the people, when events, such as have happened, interrupt all public order?

The revolution which I have headed does not desire the proscription of any one, it only wishes free voting.

The 'Constitucional' of Mendoza says that the Comandante of Cuartel San Rafael publishes the following despatch addressed to the Colonel-in-chief of the Frontier.

I have to advise you that the Indians who came to rob as far as the Corral de la Llave, 18 leagues to the east of this place...

These Indians must be the same who pillaged the troops who were carrying clothes for the 1st Regiment...

Owing to this very long chase, our horses are completely knocked up, and it will take some little time to make them fit for service.

The revolution, as stated before in my manifesto of July, has been called into existence by the total ignoring of all principles, and all rights...

FLORES' PROCLAMATION.

avenue departments, £4,511,732; pocket service, £208,082; Kerch and Yenikale prize money, £88,925; making the supply services of the year £98,700,881 14s. 11d. Adding all the above items of expenditure together, the total ordinary expenditure of the year is £66,910,987 11s. 10d., which with £900,000 for the expenses of fortifications, makes the total expenditure of the year £67,810,987 11s. 10d. leaving, as already mentioned, a balance of income over expenditure of £2,622,632 13s. 11d.

The balances in the exchequer on the 31st December, 1892, amounted to £3,669,863 3s 7d. The money raised in the year ended the 31st December 1893, was £202,000. The repayments on account of sums advanced for the purchase of bullion and for local works, under various acts of Parliament, were £1,392,093, from which were to be deducted advances for similar purposes amounting to £216,774, making the excess of repayments over advances £575,216.

In the same year was issued to the Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt £378,973, from which was to be deducted, as amount applied to redemption of deficiency bills, £650,690, leaving available for reduction of national debt, £89,573 17s. 9d. In addition to this there were exchequer bonds paid off, dated November 8 1888 (series F), to the amount of £1,000,000, and exchequer bills paid off in money, £1,107,300.

The balances in the exchequer on the 31st December, 1893, were £7,491,813 8s. 9d.

POPULAR DEFENSE

When Faust invented the printing press, and men saw with what marvellous facility the most bulky manuscripts could be reproduced in almost unlimited numbers, they ascribed the invention to a person who has been obliged to bear not only his own sins, but those of all the world—the Devil. Hence arose the wild German legend of Dr. Faust and the Devil, which the genius of Goethe has immortalized. Such would have been the fate of Holloway had he lived in those times, for his celebrated medicines have worked and are working such wonderful cures, that our superstitious forefathers would have ascribed it all to his Satanic majesty, in spite of the inconsistency of believing in old Nick's curing for the good of man. They would have burned him for a wizard, but we in a more enlightened age are content to reap the benefits of his philanthropic labours, and to look upon him as the great benefactor of his race. Through his means we may bid defiance to suffering and disease in any of the thousand forms which it assumes, and look forward confidently to a long and happy life. May he live long in the full enjoyment of that great blessing, which his Pills and Ointment have done so much to bestow upon suffering humanity, is the prayer of millions who look upon him as the saviour of their lives and limbs, or the restorer of their health. Now, we have often heard it said that these pretended cures are all moonshine, and that nothing but a bold front and large means have raised Holloway to his present position; but a moment's reflection must dissipate such a delusion, for can it be supposed that he would have been permitted to have gone on for so many years past, as shown by his advertisements setting forth marvellous cures with names and addresses of thousands of persons of all ranks of society—we ask, is it likely that such an imposition, if such it had been, could have been palmed off year after year upon the public at this enlightened age? Would not thousands who paid for his medicines have denounced him as a public cheat, and as one who had siphoned them out of their money? But as none have raised a voice against them, then the most sceptical amongst us can but admit that Holloway's medicines possess efficacy of such an extraordinary merit.—Maryville Press.

LOCAL EVENTS.

The Rain—The good folks in this country are not unlike the frogs who prayed to Jupiter for a king. King dog, in the shape of rain, has been granted, and now the frogs are croaking about the damage done by his majesty. At San Fernando, the water has risen to the barancas, and as far as three squares on the Plaza. On the Northern Railway a part of the line is under water; and in Barracas the inhabitants are using boats in the street. Master Bolu also seems to have been 'preeting,' for besides the damage done by his worship amongst the shipping on Monday last, he blew down some ranches, and a kitchen in the Plaza 11 de September, and in the Plaza de Constitucion the walls of a house in course of construction.

The Northern Railway and the Press.—The cronista of the 'Pueblo' has been studying arithmetic, if we may judge from the sum in the rule of three which he proposes. Here, then, is a single question in proposition:—If nine tailors make a man, how many Jerusalem ponies are required to make a native cronista? Answer to be in vulgar fractions, which will make it easier for him.

When a man talks "boast," he is generally said to be talking metaphysics; and there appear to be a good number of metaphysicians at present in Buenos Ayres. Our advice to the native cronistas is: let them stick to their caudex conversations and elections, and let railways and things they don't understand alone, else they'll find themselves in the position of Dr. Dec's servant, who raised the devil and then did not know what to do with him.

Brotherly Contact.—The Argentine Consul in Valparaiso, Don Gregorio Becce, informs his Government that the Chilean authorities had advised him of a man intended to be executed by the Pehuenches Indians, situated in the Cordillera, upon the Argentine Provinces. This information was received from the Governor of Aranco. It is considered here that leads nations closer together than all the rotten treaties which are made by individuals, dubbed plenipotentiaries; and on this occasion it is a good deal like heapng coals of fire on the Argentines' heads in return for the noble and generous alacrity they displayed in assisting the Chilean sufferers by the fire of 8th December last.

Exports.—Exports are still continuing slack. On the 5th inst the Emus cleared out for New York, with 2-3 bales of wool, 10 bales nutria, 8336 258 bales calfskins, 3728 carpincho skins.

Provincial Chambers.—A committee was appointed yesterday to make the scrutiny of elections for Congress, and the Chamber retired to 'curio inter-medio' and mate.

Merchants and brokers seemed to wear a gayer aspect to-day, but it would be difficult to define the reason. The fall in specie no doubt was a good omen, but it is likely there were as many losers as gainers by the circumstance. The Music hall Co may have given a tinge to the public countenance: the site being already acquired the contract with the architect was to be agreed on and signed at 3 p.m. the shares are $'000 each, and only a few remain to be disposed of. The Campana mystery is cleared up, and our anticipation verified: he has gone to the U. States, from Montevideo, which latter place he is supposed to have reached in a whale-boat. It is even said that he has written to a friend here, pledging his honor that he took only as much money as would pay his passage. He is said to have lost heavily on Bolsa speculations, for which he kept a private ledger, perfectly unintelligible to his friends. Both the foreign Banks are rumored to be 'put in' for small amounts.

In Exchange little has been done these days. On yesterday some small sums were taken at 66.5, and to-day 67.5 was offered, but no takers.

The recent rains have affected the wool markets; in the South Plaza some of the wool is damaged, and buyers are very careless.

The cargo of coal, ex Italian barque Escere, from Cardill, was sold at 11 pats. to be delivered at San Nicolas.

The Dutch barque Libca has been placed on the berth for London, by C. W. Benn and Co.

SAVINGS BANK BANK MAUD & CO.

No. 103 calle de Cangallo. - BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the great emporium of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place their most confidence.

The Bank of Maud & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Maud & Co. of this city following the example of their Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

p. p. Maud & Co. WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS... 1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.
