TUESDAY, MAY 17, 1864.

NEBUROUS BUSINESS.

There is not a spot upon the habitable globe where business or commerce is more harassed than in the River Plate. There is a nefarious business going on at present between the outer roads and the Bca, which is enriching the Italian boatman and robbing the foreign merchants.

Robberies of the most stupendous character are going on under our very noses, confounding consigners of goods in Europe and North America are cheated, and the most wholesale system of swindling ever known or heard of is perpetrated in the harbour of Buenos Ayres.

For years our friends at home have found that, notwithstanding all their care in shipping goods, the measurement of the cargo here has always proved short.

Now-a-days, however, the purloining system has assumed such dimensions owing to the impunity which heretofore existed, that lawsuits at home and abroad have been the consequence, and our friends at home have begun to form the most prejudicial opinion of the commission merchants in the River Plate.

Within the last week a cargo of pine, of between 200,000 and 300,000 feet has been found wanting seven thousand feet. This cargo was measured in the States before shipping; the number of boards shipped had been found correct, but the measurer here who is an upright and honest man, has found it his duty to advise the consignees that in measuring the cargo he has observed numbers of boards recently cut in two.

Some time ago another cargo of pine was found short fourteen thousand feet. Sworn declarations and what not were made before consuls, letters and explanations were made by the consignees—meanwhile the lightermen know more about the matter than any one else, but none dare say so.

We however who profess to care little about the lightermen, feel it our duty to call public attention to the matter.

The patrons of these lighter-boats are informed only receive as salary some 500 or 600 dollars per month. They have for the most part large families to support on this miserable salary; expenses are high, and we all know the sequel.

We are informed by parties who are intimately acquainted with the lightermen of Buenos Ayres, that a trip on board of one of them to the outer roads is as pleasant as a shooting excursion to Colonia. The very best wines and brandies are to be had ad libitum, and one's appetite for dinner is enhanced not only by the river breeze but by the fact that the dinner is cooked by the best English cook.

best Paraguayan tobacco to Europe, as it has literally ceased to have any quotation in those markets, and the holders of bales exported from Buenos Ayres last year are unable to dispose of them at any price.

When we recollect the brisk business which was springing up some five years ago in Paraguayan tobacco, and the brilliant prospects entertained by all those connected with the trade, we naturally feel surprised to find so unlooked for a result.

On a minute investigation into this matter we learn that the fault lies entirely with the growers of the plant in Paraguay, who instead of curing the leaf with care, send it when half green into the market of Asuncion for sale; the consequence is, that although experienced tobacco merchants admit the leaf is as good as the Cuban, still for the want of proper care, it is almost worthless in the English market.

It behoves the Government of Paraguay to take immediate steps in this matter, as the markets of the River Plate are utterly insufficient to consume the whole crop.

There are at present some fifteen hundred bales on hand, which we are informed meet with the greatest difficulty of sale, even at declining prices.

It should be the care of the Government of Paraguay to procure some experienced tobacco curers from Cuba and the States in order that the most approved methods of curing and manufacturing the tobacco leaf be at once introduced.

The extent of the crop this year is estimated at close on a million of arrobes which will hardly be worth the freight from Asuncion to Buenos Ayres if not properly cured.

It is to be regretted that a staple of so much importance should be lost through the grossest negligence. It is directly we all have an interest in this question, since the import trade to this place has so much increased, our exports are found insufficient to afford homeward cargo to foreign vessels.

At this moment our wools and hives are almost exhausted, and but for a few saladeros which are still working in the rivers, we should have nothing now to send home save Martin Goren rocks. How convenient would it not be if we could now at this usually dull season fall back on the tobacco crop of Paraguay, which at the rate going will shortly ascend to one hundred thousand bales.

It is to be hoped that these observations will meet the eyes of President Lopez, who has given already proof of his great anxiety for the industrial development of Paraguay. During the two months of January and February of this year the imports of tobacco into England were—tobacco stemmed, 304,810 lbs.; unstemmed, 3,786,728.

We call the attention of Paraguayan tobacco growers to these statistics, not one pound of which came from Paraguay.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Governor Saavedra, it appears after all, was one of the most active peace makers last Friday. We call attention to a letter from a well known foreigner in this city signed Justicia, which explains how the peace between the Crudos and Cocidos was brought about. It reflects the greatest credit on Señor Saavedra, M. Riestra, Dr. Segui and the President. So long as we have men occupying such exalted positions really and truly opposed to revolution, there is every hope for the country, but the Crudo and Cocido dispute was being carried to such a pitch that we began to think that the Argentine Republic was under the especial curse of Providence and blessing of Florent.

Now that this knotty question is at last settled, we ought all to apply ourselves towards putting down Flores, restoring peace to the Banda Oriental, for next to having the fire in one's own house is to have one in the neighbour's. Flores is bringing about serious complications in the River Plate. Time will yet prove the truth of this assertion.

Mr. Wheelwright we understand will be out in July; at least so he has written to some of his friends in Buenos Ayres. We hope Argentines will take steps to give him a proper reception.

We regret to inform our readers that the barque "Mary Riley," which left here for Bahia Blanca about a week since, is said to have been wrecked off the mouth of the river. It may be remembered that she had on board a fellow countryman (Capt. Tottenbaum) who left for Patagonia for the purpose of purchasing all the wheat in that locality. We are happy, however, to say that no lives were lost.

The latest we hear from ex-Governor Sarmento is from the top of the Andes. When his Excellency reached the summit he called for pen, ink and paper with as much coolness as if he was in McKean's book store. He wrote to President Mitre, and, we believe, to the editor of the "Nacion Argentina," as soon as he sealed and despatched his letters, he resumed his journey, observing that when he next passed that spot he hoped to find a railway station.

We call our readers' attention to an able article on Garibaldi in the "Economist" of the 9th of April. We shall try to republish it when we have space.

The Paraguayan steamer leaves today for Asuncion. She takes up, we understand, a cargo of railway iron.

The "Alecto," a large British gun boat, arrived in port on Sunday. It is the largest gun boat we have in the Plate, carries 6 Armstrong guns, 130 men besides officers, and is about of 530 tons burden. She left yesterday morning for Colonia, to practice.

The "Forte" we hear will sail immediately for England, where she will be paid off. We bid her officers a long farewell and wish them a pleasant voyage.

We hear that there is a magnificent ball to be given on next Monday night. The invitations number over five hundred.

The greatest peace and harmony now exist between the Crudos and Cocidos. Yesterday it was amusing to see these out and out politicians embracing each other in the streets. The girls, however, we hear, are out and out Crudos still.

The preparations for the May festival have attracted the attention of our politicians and a very brilliant celebration Mr. Wells' balloon will be the principal feature; the first ascent will be on the 24th, when the ascent will be made down by a parachute. Next day he will go up with an Anglo Argentine young lady. The Municipality agrees to pay for three ascents the sum of 5000 dollars.

The ghost exhibition at Colon, by Mr. Wells, has been postponed for a week; the spectral mechanism will first be brought into play in the performance of "Macbeth."

Next Monday is fixed for the opening of the new section of the Western Railway, to Villa Luxa. The invitations have not yet been issued, but we expect to see President Mitre, Governor Saavedra, and a large muster of the extinct factions, in fraternal harmony, attending on the happy occasion. The foreigners will probably be few in number.

M. Palliere's album N° 10 was delivered on Saturday; it is beautifully got up and not only reflects credit on the artist, painter, and skillful lithographer (Belvian), but is a patent sign of the advancement of B. Ayres. Two pictures are delivered fortnightly: those of the present number are "La sand" and "Portefa a Mass. Had we a painter's soul, and poet's pen, we might describe these charming productions, which entitle M. Palliere well-meritedly to be considered the painter of La Plata, but we feel it impossible to do them justice, other than by advising our readers to inspect them.

Two new steam-boat companies have been started, to connect Buenos Ayres and the River Plate. The French Government will run a steamer monthly from Marseilles to the River Plate direct, in addition to the Bordeaux packet calling at the Brazils. Messrs. Lamport and Holt are agents for the "Brazil and River Plate Steam Co." despatching a steamer from Liverpool on the 8th of each month; the Kehler will be succeeded by the Galileo, Copernicus, Herschel, Newton, and Ptolemy. This makes six monthly lines of steamers from Europe.

Telegraph Wires in Paraguay. 500 Miles and 14 Stations.

We are glad to notice the arrival of a German engineer, M. Richard von Fischer, en route for Asuncion, engaged by President Lopez for the purpose of laying down telegraph wires throughout Paraguay. The wires, other materials, and machinery for fourteen telegraphic stations have already been sent to their destination. One line will extend from Asuncion to Villa Rica, 160 miles; another will run along the river from the former city to Itaiti and the confluence of the Paraná and Paraguay, 180 miles. The third line will, we suppose, connect the capital with the ports of the inner Paraguay. An assistant of Mr. Fischer will arrive by next packet. No fewer than 14 English engineers and mechanics, arrived per Mercury, go up also in the Mercury; moreover, the wives of four English mechanics in the arsenal of Asuncion.

Everything in Paraguay now-a-days denotes gigantic progress, and we entirely coincide with the "Precursor d'Anvers" that the Government of that country is earning for itself a character of wisdom and advancement.

THE ARGENTINE CENTRAL RAILWAY.

The greater part of the shares have been taken in London, and Mr. Wheelwright, taking a new position among the promoters of progress, had invented his own private means in the shares which should have been placed here, reserving to himself the chance of transferring them.

Mr. Wheelwright has thus invested his own fortune, and as much of his friends as he could induce to join, in an undertaking which will bind them to this country. This is sufficient to guarantee the confidence which is felt in the realisation of the work, and it is also sufficient to show to what extent Mr. Wheelwright has made this country his debtor.

At the sailing of the packet, there were four vessels loading rails and machinery for the Cordoba Railway, and Mr. Wheelwright intended leaving for this country in the middle of June.

A private letter, from an influential man in London, says:—"The indefatigable Mr. Wheelwright has told me that in order not to hinder the formation of the company, he has had to advance from his private means a sum sufficient to cover all the shares subscribed for in the Argentine Republic, and that he will return there in June next, in order to recover these funds. This gentleman is well worthy of all the support and consideration of the government, as he has done an act of great importance. To show the interest that, as Argentine, I take in the Cordoba Railway, I have just subscribed for 40 shares, besides the 10 already subscribed for in Buenos Ayres, and I am sorry that I cannot take more."

Another letter says, as follows:—"I have only time to tell you, that through the constant energy of Mr. Wheelwright, the Cordoba Railway has been started, and what will not astonish you, that he leaves for Buenos Ayres in the first packet. His personal friends have assisted him greatly with subscriptions, and at the same time, he has not hesitated to sink a large part of his fortune, in order to comply with the project he made for the Argentine nation. There are few men who have inspired such confidence in his honesty and good faith as Mr. Wheelwright; and, I am happy to say, that owing to his confidence, Messrs. Brassey and Wyke have joined in this enterprise with the greatest cordiality, lending all their weight to crush the opposition which has lately sprung up against this undertaking."

With respect to the last lines, we ought to say, that Mr. Robertson opposed the railway at first, perhaps owing to false information which was spread among our people, and made by one of the most influential persons in Buenos Ayres, and on whose judgment Mr. Robertson depends, has written to him, explaining his views and showing that the fate of Buenos Ayres is bound up with the future of the other provinces, and that those most interested in the credit of Buenos Ayres should be the first to attend to the credit of the Nation. The Central Railway may thus be looked upon as a fait accompli.

We shall soon have in our ports the vessels which are bringing the plan for the Central Railway, and soon also shall the works be commenced.—"Vision Argentina."

CONGRESS.

During the present session, we will devote a portion of our space to report the proceedings of the National Legislature, and such comments thereon. As yet, it may be said, the Chambers have done little more than appoint committees. We regret to see the hostility of M. Piñero (Nacional) as soon declare itself in a proposed vote of censure upon the National Executive, relative to the neglected state of the Corrihon frontier and the Indian invasions. M. Fraguero, who has just been named head of the "Public Credit" Department, joins the former in attempting to throw discredit on President Mitre.

The "Nacion Argentina" assures its readers that the deputies who intend resigning their posts in the present chambers, in order to be replaced by candidates of the Club del Pueblo, will be the following:—

- Dr. Don Benito Salvar, "Carlos d'Almeida," "A. Gonzalez," "Dardo Rocha," "Manuel Quiroga."

These gentlemen are thus made supplicants for their party, for the benefit of the proposed session, but will be fully repaid for their political expediency, by witnessing another election.

The gamblers' saying of the 'next best thing to winning is losing,' might be paraphrased by Buenos Ayres politicians into 'the next best thing to being deputy, is voting for deputies.' Every Argentine citizen looks upon being senator or deputy, as the 'sum' man bonanza of life, a phrase which was once freely translated by a Brazilian man as the 'height of boning.'

THE PROVINCES.

We extract from the "Tribuna" the following:

With respect to affairs here, the only thing now is the resignation of Minister Gamelin, which was sent in yesterday, he, no doubt, intending to go and occupy his seat in the National Chamber of Deputies.

The Governor's candidate is Dr. Don Felipe Jose Cabral, who is, as an private individual, most respectable, but how he will do as Minister we know not. It is supposed by some that he will not accept the post which is offered him.

This news is not generally known, but I received it in confidence from Sr. Lagranga.—"You Correspondent."

San Juan.

There have been various robberies, and even some murders, in Medano and the Lagunas.

There are several bands of robbers, headed by a man called Mendoza, which have committed an extensive robbery on some travellers from San Luis.

Sr. Zacarias Yauzi had arrived at that capital with a quantity of bar silver, and the farmers of the Santo Domingo Mine. This should re-encourage the miners, who are but too apt to lose heart at small discouragements. The Rickard contract has been renewed, and we congratulate the province on this happy result. Sr. Sarmiento had arrived at the Andes, whence he wrote that he was on the point of passing to Valparaiso, before going to Santiago.

Tucuman.

Government had contracted with a Señor Geremundia, the representative of a joint stock company, for the construction of a public market. The privilege to last for 25 years.

An Italian, Vicente de Bruza, has requested from the Government the monopoly for 10 years of indigo growing in that province, and the examining committee advises its being granted.

A concert had been given in this city for the benefit of the hospital.

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

Attempt to Storm Dybbol.

We have received the following telegram from our special correspondent at the Danish Head-quarters. "Sonderborg, Monday, 10.8.64. This morning, at 3 o'clock an attack was made on Bastion G, and on the whole Dybbol lines.

The Prussians were thrice repulsed; at last the Prussian soldiers refused to obey their officers' command to advance.

The Red Kraks fired on the Prussians' right from Wemmingbold. The engagement lasted seven hours. The cannonade continued. One hundred Danes are killed and wounded; 22 Prussian prisoners have been taken. Only four Danish regiments were engaged."

The use of the Danish stamped paper with the King's initials has been prohibited in Schleswig, as has also been the use of the prayer for the King of Denmark in the churches.

The salaries of dismissed officials have not been paid. Danish coinage has been abolished in Schleswig, and that of Germany introduced in its stead.

A German office of the supervision of the Schleswig postal arrangements has been established in Flensburg, at the head of which is an official from the Prussian post-office.

of the Mexican young ladies, so that we are likely to hear of several marriages. We get, it is true, but very detailed information as to the working of universal suffrage for the election of the Emperor. Six or seven years ago the population of Mexico was about 8,000,000, divided into five different classes. The direct descendants of the Spanish settlers were about 300,000. Those sprung from Spanish and Indian parents, who followed the military profession, or were employed under Government, and who considered themselves as whites, numbered about 800,000. The Indian population, speaking the Aztec or old Mexican, living in villages in a state of servitude and misery, constituted the agricultural class, and counted no less than 4,000,000. Then there are the mixed-bloods, who go by various names such as Zamboos, the issue of Indians and negroes; Mulattos, of whites and negroes; Terzons, of whites and Indians; Quadroons, of whites and A Torzonos, Octoroons, &c., to the tenth shade of copper or black—the whole comprising about 1,500,000. We have, lastly, about 40,000 or 50,000 "Ganapuchos," the nickname given by the Mexicans to the Spanish and other Europeans, from the spurs worn by the invaders under Cortes. Were the inquiry worth making, we might know what the Zamboos and the Indians thought of universal suffrage, and whether anybody troubled himself with explaining the immortal principles of 1830 or the theory of the Latin races. We have heard, too, a vast deal about "nationalities," and of the wars that ought to be waged to set them free; but the war against the difficult for the advocates of the principle to apply to these mongrel populations. So far as more numbers go, the Indians have decidedly the superiority. When the Government is properly installed, Maximilian would do well to follow the example of the old Kings of Spain, and decree that all these races "langan por Mexico." It will be easy for him to do so, as by the Constitution of 1824 Zamboos, Mestizos, Indians, Capuchinos, and all, were admitted to the equal enjoyment of civil rights, and consequently wasted white.

UNITED STATES.

March 19, 11 a. m. General Fremont was last night nominated for the Presidency by a great meeting. The speaker was an Abolitionist. It proclaimed equality of all men before the law, without distinction of race or colour, and denounced the institution of slavery as a blot on the nation, and a disgrace to the person of the labourer to the soil.

Gold 162. A great meeting of Democrats, who advocate General McClellan for the Presidency, was held at the Cooper Institute last evening. The speeches and resolutions denounced the Administration and Abolitionism, and declared General McClellan to be the only man capable of rescuing the nation from disintegration and ruin.

St. Patrick's Day in London. Our countrymen in the River Plate will be glad to learn that in London St. Patrick's day is not forgotten. We wish we could say so much for Buenos Ayres.

Yesterday being St. Patrick's day the Benevolent Society of St. Patrick held their 89th annual dinner. General Viscount Templeton, C. B., in the chair. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts having been drunk and responded to, the noble chairman proposed the toast of the evening—"Prosperity to Ireland and to the Benevolent Society of St. Patrick." His Lordship gave a brief account of the endeavours of the society during the past year to improve the condition of the numerous Irish labouring poor in the metropolis.

The schools continued full to their utmost capacity, 500 children having been educated and clothed, and during the winter months provided with a substantial daily meal at the society's expense. The conduct and progress of the children had also been most satisfactory, and the zealous manner in which the superintendents of the schools had performed their duties, requiring as they did no small amount of tact and discrimination, was worthy of all praise. They had much to contend with in the increasing depression on the part of parents, but they were the same reason the number of boys in the school had also decreased. His Lordship then made a feeling appeal to those present on behalf of the society, and concluded by announcing that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales had graciously consented to become a patron of the society. The toast "Ireland and the Society" was drunk with all the honours, the secretary announced that Her Majesty had headed the subscription list (which reached nearly £2000), with a donation of 100

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUÁ & C.
No. 103 calle de Cangallo.

BUENOS-AIRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the great commercial city of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place their most confidential funds.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city following the example of their Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.
