Sympathy with Peru

Great demonstration at Colon... The doors of our great theatre were thrown open on Sunday at noon...

The chair was taken by General Zapala, around whom on either side were grouped some 20 veterans of the Independence...

General Guido briefly replied, "that while he thanked the last speaker and the public for their kind appreciations, he was ashamed that his name should be in any way figure before that of their great hero, San Martin...

Don Pastor Obligado junr. then came forward, as secretary to the committee, and read several resolutions; he recommended same to the meeting in a fiery discourse on popular sovereignty, American freedom, European tyrants, and other topics of Retiro style...

General Tomas Guido, being loudly called for, addressed the assembly; his speech was decidedly the ablest and most sensible of the day. He said: Fellow citizens. It is a cheering idea for my comrades of the Independence to think that the ablest and most sensible of the day...

LEA & Co. of S. American... MORCHES... The great powers formed the scheme of converting all Hispano-American republics into monarchies...

of the great powers formed the scheme of converting all Hispano-American republics into monarchies. I am happy to testify that England held aloof from the coalition...

Mr. Bilbao said: It is my painful duty to remind you of the urgency of the present danger. When Mexico was invaded, the sister-republics looked on helplessly...

but an inspired writer (Jub) says: "I am no prophet, but when I see red clouds at sunset, I know that it betokens a stormy horizon..."

apathy which they exhibit in the Argentine, Central Railway scheme. Leaves them open to the imputation of narrow-minded selfishness...

The non-arrival of the "Mersey" yesterday left us rather hard up for news, but as the Colon meeting has been reported, we were cheered from the dilemma...

highest authority that no such secret alliance exists or existed, and that President Mitre views with displeasure the Brazilian pretensions.

Dr. Guido, the manager of the Banco de los Rios Bank, has made a second call for 25 per cent on the shares. The stockholders think he is calling them in fast.

Flóres, it appears, has accepted peace, and the terms agreed on, intend to become a sort of South American Hamlet, as he proposes raising a Peruvian legion, crossing the Andes in the dead of winter, and falling an avalanche upon the unsuspecting Pizón.

The different tone of the orators on last Sunday at Colón, has excited great surprise, and shows that Argentina were far from enjoining all the bosh about rotten monarchies. England is now regarded as the friend of South America, and the English monarchy as sound and firm as any of the republics in the world.

Mr. Lushan, who has for many years been connected with the trade and commerce of Rosario, left per Santiago for Europe.

PARAGUAY

The review of our colleague, the 'Semanario,' is deserving of peculiar attention. We extract the following:—

It affords us the greatest pleasure to remark the numerous projects and improvements undertaken by Government, because it proves most indubitably the genuine interest which the Government takes in the prosperity of the Republic. Government has fixed its attention upon the development of the interior, by means of riverine communication, the rich rivers which flow through the Gran Chaco, and particularly the Pilcomayo, which unites the Republics of Bolivia and Paraguay, will testify, thanks to the efforts of our Government, be open to the commerce of the world. The realization of this scheme promises the most splendid results, not only to Paraguay, but to the whole of the River Plate. Our Government is having constructed in England two steamers, built expressly for this purpose, and it determines to make an experiment in a matter of such importance. It is to be hoped that Bolivia will second our efforts, as it will be of mutual benefit. This highly important project is seconded by another of almost equal benefit. Telegraph wires are to be run from all the principal towns to Asunción: the wires have arrived, and also the engineer. In fact, every measure calculated to benefit the country, meets with a ready support from Government. Our political system has been made the object of the most violent attacks, but we ask impartial men to judge, and Government by our deeds, not promises; and this political exasperation, which is tried to be fomented by parties who apparently have no other aim to do, can lead to no good result. Another cause of some importance, and which proves how we enjoy our time, is the opening of the railway to Pirity, which is distant some 14 leagues from Asunción. The greatest activity reigns in the railway works, which are now more than half finished for the whole length of the route. The workmen are now pushed on to the rocky mountains of Sapeca. The great convenience of the railway is now beginning to be felt, and planters are sending in their cotton and tobacco by railway every day is not far distant when the locomotive will steam into Villa Rica. It is to be regretted, owing to the continued heavy rains, many parties are unable to attend the blessing of the new church, in the picturesque town of Paraguari; notwithstanding, however, the unpleasant weather, the attendance on that memorable day was great. Crowds went to see the new camp at Cerro Leon, which has, as by the wizard's wand, been converted into a well-regulated barracks. The officers and soldiers' quarters attracted particular attention, they were so well built and commodious. The recruiting still continues unabated, and each day batches of raw soldiers are arriving at the encampment. The anniversary of the Independence of Paraguay was celebrated with the most unprecedented eclat, not only in the capital, but in all the towns in the country. In consequence of the unpleasant events which took place in the harbour of Montevideo, Paraguay demanded satisfaction for the insult. We are happy to say that the Oriental Minister, Dr. Sagastume has, in the most amicable manner, afforded satisfaction, and friendly relations between the two Governments have been re-established. President Mitre's Government has at last abolished the incongruous port regulations, and were to unfair towards our steamer. We readily acknowledge this act of that Government, which proves that at least in this question the Argentine Government was influenced by a spirit of justice towards us—'Semanario.'

It affords us no small gratification to give publicity to the foregoing plain statement of facts. That Government is going ahead now can doubt. The Government of that country seems to have no other object, save internal prosperity and national greatness, and though the faras may be different, liberty in the proper sense of the word, is fully enjoyed, and life and property protected. Comparisons are alike invidious, as they are impolitic, but the man who rules in Paraguay has never stigmatised his name with any act of cruelty, or exhibited the character of a despot. Our present spates will not permit us to enter into them, but we hope to return shortly to the subject and throw some light on these almost un-discovered regions.

2d. District, the plaza, Messrs. Dauid and Will.

3d. District, National District, Messrs. Geronzi and Conat.

4th. District, the market, Messrs. Grogan and Lejarza.

The President and Secretary have formed a fifth committee to gather the subscriptions already received in the country, and to endeavor to raise more.

Great Central Argentine Railway.
All who take interest in the progress of this country will be glad to learn that the directory is taking active measures to hasten the above enterprise.

Our readers will be already informed of the arrangements of a local commission in Rosario, and we now have the satisfaction to announce that similar steps have been taken at Cordova. A meeting of shareholders was held in that picturesque city on the 24th inst. The Governor of the Province, Don Roque Ferrerria, was also present. Mr. Juan Duguid, of our city, in virtue of power from the directors, here, confirmed in their office of collectors of shares, the little principal citizens originally chosen by Dr. Rawson for the purpose, and the meeting elected from that body three gentlemen to act as local directors. They are Don Jose Maria Mendez, Don Antonio Alvarez, Don Julio Argüello, Don Santiago Gouliand to act as secretary.

The meeting was addressed by the Governor, strongly recommending the active co-operation, and stating that he was about to take the necessary steps to obtain from the Chamber of Power to subscribe on behalf of the Government of the Province.

Mr. Duguid gave a succinct account of the position of the Company explaining the contract of the shareholders to Messrs. Waela, Wright and Brassey, and forcibly appealed to the shareholders to demonstrate their appreciation of these efforts by fulfilling the contract of the Government, which they had undertaken to promote. Mr. Duguid also spoke in furtherance of the object of meeting, and the utmost unanimity prevailed as to the great advantage to result from the enterprise to Cordova and the Confederation. The Directors named a committee of five, and the meeting collected the deposits and extended the list of shareholders. A list was prepared at the meeting, and a committee
