THE ARGENTINE ARMY

The state of the army, like the state of the streets, and the state of the paper dollar, needs reformation; but as unfortunately it often occurs in this country...

None are more opposed to the flagging system than ourselves. It reduces man to the level of the brute beast, but although hostile to this practice, we are very far from agreeing with the enlightened members of Congress...

The Argentine Government being destitute of penal colonies and prisons, is obliged to substitute the army for both. The consequence is, that if the Argentine regiments were drawn up a line at the Retiro, and the rifles given for every man who had been tried for some offence or other to stand forth, whose companies would be obliged to do so.

Until very lately we are assured, orders were emptied into the barracks, and thus murderers, cut-throats, and the very scum of society were manufactured into soldiers of the line to be sent to do so.

But where is the Argentine who can deny that even to this day a punishment is not used as a service? It may be that in a country such as this no other means can be resorted to to fill up the ranks; but let us not therefore be led away by a rash desire to treat the soldiers as citizens.

It may seem invidious, on our part, to draw comparisons between the Commander-in-Chief of the Argentine army and the Commander-in-Chief of the works of a railway company, but never mind, we think President Mitre might take a leaf from Mr. Crawford's book with advantage.

We put it to the legislators of this country whether they can point to any army on the face of the globe composed of six thousand more illiterate, lazy, idle men, than the army of the Argentine Republic.

If our army was composed of men who could read and write, whose names never appeared on the criminal lists in the Cabello, who entered the service either through choice or penalty, and who obeyed the orders and regulations of their officers from an inherent respect for authority...

For the amendment 10 Against 24 the open camps they have never known... however subject to the approval of...

At the termination of the rules, the meeting proceeded to elect a committee... The Argentine legislators have...

THE LITERARY CLUB

The third preliminary meeting of the Circulo Literario, took place on Tuesday evening at the Chambers, Calle Cuyo...

Dr. Valentino Alvarez was in the chair, supported by Messrs. Amunátegui and Estrada, as secretaries.

A slight discussion arose about the rights of members to send the porter of errands, but the article was suppressed.

The article, naming as Honorary President and vice, the President of the Republic, and the Governor of Buenos Ayres...

Mr. M. G. Mithall proposed, as an amendment, that Don Bartolome Mitre be substituted for the President of the Republic...

The original article was put and lost by an overwhelming majority. At this stage the excitement was so great, that the chairman adjourned the meeting for a few minutes.

The prolonged continuation of the Flores revolution is at last beginning to show its effects upon the inhabitants of this unhappy country.

Flora, and his friends in Buenos Ayres, have been more successful in overthrowing the moral restraints which...

bind together society than in expelling the Buenos Aires press. We derive from an Englishman recently arrived from the districts north of the Rio Negro...

The Peruvian sympathizers seem to have latterly suddenly changed their minds we have no more public meetings, speeches, etc.

EDITORS TABLE

The weather is very heavy, and Argentines complain that Englishmen have brought over the London fog with them.

We received a communication from a member of the Foreign Club, but as we considered the style objectionable, and likely to annoy the Directors, we declined to publish it.

The Argentine Government has paid the interest due on the Bonds up to the 1st of August, but has not as yet authorized the amount provided by law.

The Provincial Chambers were to have met last night in compliance with a public notice to that effect, but the probabilities are that there was no quorum, owing to the muddy state of the streets.

Dr. de Mat, the Argentine Consul in Brussels, has taken up the cause of Argentines against some charges published in the Belgian papers.

There is an amusing discussion going on between Sr. Cataldi, who it is said has done more for this country than any one else, and the municipality.

There is quite an American colony being started up in Santa Fe; several American gentlemen who have recently arrived with capital, are investing in lands out there; the neighbourhood of Rosario is going ahead more than any other part of the republic.

The poor Irishman who was attacked some weeks ago near the Villa Lunica, is, we regret to hear, dying. The foreign public are anxious to know what has become of the prisoner.

Two Irish gentlemen arrived from the Caracana district yesterday; they report most unfavourably on the state of the camps for sheep-farming in that neighbourhood.

The subscription list to the British Hospital has been sent us; we are obliged to hold it over until to-morrow.

Great preparations are going on in San Fernando for the coming summer. House proprietors are fitting up their houses in the hope of getting fabulous rents, and even the Municipality of the place is inspired with the same anxiety for "fitting up," as they are building, or rather laying out, a fashionable promenade in front of the Station.

The latest news we have of Flores is that it is very short of horses. Borges made a great dash to capture President Aguirre on his return to Montevideo, but we are happy to say failed completely in the attempt.

the Buenos Aires press. We derive from an Englishman recently arrived from the districts north of the Rio Negro that out in the country civil law protection has completely vanished.

The Peruvian sympathizers seem to have latterly suddenly changed their minds we have no more public meetings, speeches, etc.

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR

Cordoba, Mendoza & Catamarca. The 'Ferro-Carril' has letters from Cordoba dated 21st ult.

The latest news from Entre Rios is, that the legislators talk of moving the capital from Uruguay; it is said that Urquiza is opposed to this, but some of the Entre Rios politicians appear determined on the measure.

The Riferos battalion had received orders from the National Government to march for San Luis under the command of Col. Guinfa, who thought fit to subject the men to previous discipline by employing them in the construction of the San Esteban Dyke.

A spirit of discontent so soon manifested itself in the corps. There were under arrest, in the encampment, about 40 soldiers for different causes, and these fellows seized a favorable opportunity to take their comrades unaware; they rushed on the guard, whom they disarmed, and then tied down the officers, marching into the undefended city of San Juan about midnight.

CENTRAL AMERICA

The revolutionary party in San Salvador has triumphed, and the National Government has been obliged to recognize the rebel authorities of Antioquia, adding another to the list of thoroughly demoralized republics.

In Nicaragua, to long the scene of demoralizing civil war and contentions they seek symptoms of improvement, the Senate having decreed a Railway to be built from Puerto-mora to Carriqui.

Some Irishmen have returned from Rosario, with very unsatisfactory news, although many years resident in South America, he has seldom witnessed such excitement as has been reported of that place by the arrival of the above named vessel...

ROSARIO

ARRIVAL OF THE "Englishman." A friend, who has just arrived per "Lyon" from Rosario, informs us that, although many years resident in South America, he has seldom witnessed such excitement as has been reported of that place by the arrival of the above named vessel...

On Sunday nearly all the inhabitants of Rosario kept pouring in a continuous stream during the whole day to the Railway Station, where the vessel is discharging. The ceremony of taking out the first rail from the ship on Monday morning was attended by a number of the most respectable persons in Rosario...
